- sent by e-mail. Photos must be packed in folders named after the theme. The name of each file must be identical to the title of the photo.

Please send all folders containing photos to the email: mail@illumaphoto.com

For large files, it is best to use SwissTransfer or a similar service for sending big files.

ACCEPTANCES & AWARDS:

Judging Method

Jury will work remote (on-line judging). Every jury member will work with standard PC (not laptop) with color calibrated monitors sizes 24" or higher. Judges will use projection equipment or computer monitors capable of displaying images at exactly 100% of the image resolution (that is, that the images will not be enlarged – at no point zoomed in- beyond their native resolution).

An award session will be done by videoconference with all the judges viewing the images at the same time.

Target Acceptance Range

- The acceptance target range will be no more than 30% in each section.
- No image may receive more than one individual award in a section

DEFINITIONS:

Definition of Monochrome

Black and white photography is an image that displays a range of shades from black to white, encompassing various tones of gray. Such an image focuses on the nuances of light, shadow, and contrast without incorporating any colors. If the entire image is toned in a single hue, it remains within the black and white category. However, if it is modified by partial toning or the addition of any color, it becomes a color work and no longer qualifies as a black and white photograph.

Definition of Nature

A nature photograph records all aspects of the natural world, both animate and inanimate. The primary subject of a nature photograph should be animals and elements of nature, though human and human-made elements are allowed as long as they do not dominate the scene. The image must convey the truth of the scene and be presented honestly, without unethical practices to manipulate the subject or setting. High technical standards are expected, and the photograph should look natural. Human activity or objects are permissible only if they are a necessary part of the nature story being told.

Definition of Photojournalism

A photojournalism photograph is an image that captures a moment or event in a way that tells a factual story, intended to inform and convey truth to the public. It should document real events, people, and places without staging or manipulation, ensuring the authenticity of the scene. The primary aim is to provide an accurate and unbiased representation of the subject matter, often related to news, social issues, cultural events, or significant moments in history. Ethical standards are crucial in photojournalism, prohibiting any alterations that could mislead the viewer or distort the reality of the captured moment.

Body

Capture images that portray the human body in various forms and contexts. This can include physical gestures, movement, expressions, or the body's relationship with its environment. The theme is open to creativity—portray the body as a work of art, a symbol, or an element of storytelling, not necessarily limited to nude photography.

GEOMETRY, Lines, Shapes

Capture images that explore the principles of geometry through the use of lines, shapes, and their relationships. Focus on visual elements such as geometric patterns, symmetry, perspective, and the interplay of lines and forms to create compelling and aesthetically interesting photographs.

LIFE

This is a stage of unfiltered reality—fleeting glances, spontaneous rhythms, ordinary moments made extraordinary. This theme calls for photographs that capture the raw poetry of public life: people, movement, solitude, connection, or contrast. Capture images that symbolize, represent, or depict the essence of life. This can include moments of vitality, growth, movement, connection, or the everyday wonder of existence. The theme is open to interpretation, allowing for creative portrayals of life in all its forms and expressions.

Photo Association Master of Light has awarded patronage to the organizers of this International Exhibition of Photography. All acceptances in any section/theme are eligible for credits towards the distinction Master of Light.
